

THE SEED OF KINGS

From

to

Trace the ancestry of the British monarchy from King Alfred the Great to Queen Elizabeth II in this fascinating illustrated talk by Mike Ogden.

Learn how King Alfred's seed has passed down the generations to the modern royal family. Follow its sometimes-tortuous route as it travels outside England, passing through Flanders, Normandy, Scotland and Germany.

You will encounter many kings and queens in this talk, but you will not always follow the crown as it passes peacefully, or violently, from one head to another.

Indeed the talk will lead you around familiar periods of history like the Wars of the Roses and the Tudor and Stuart dynasties. They are incidental to this story, for they were times when seed and crown parted company for whole centuries, before coming together again.

To know how the present royal family are linked to their ancient ancestors you must follow

THE BLOODLINE

The talk is available for a fee in North Nottinghamshire, North Derbyshire and South Yorkshire. Venues further afield may be possible. Fee and travel cost details are given on the website:

www.mikeogden.moonfruit.com

To ask about a venue and date please call Mike Ogden on 07741 777768, or email ogewriter.mike@gmail.com

via

Matilda of Flanders

King Henry VII

King James I

King George I

Edward Duke of Kent

but not

King Richard III

King Henry VIII

Queen Elizabeth I

King Charles II

King George II